Led by;

Alexandra McDowall and Alan Deve:
UNHCR Legal protection section of UNHCR UK office
& Liz Williams - Baker and McKenzie solicitors

Wednesday 7 January 2009
2.30pm to 4.30pm

Venue: Scottish Refugee Council
5 Cadogan Square, Glasgow

Scottish Refugee Council is pleased to host a seminar by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) UK office on its general legal work in the UK and internationally.

The seminar will discuss UNHCR's priorities and approaches with respect to formal legal interventions in refugee related cases in the Scottish courts. It will also explore how UNHCR seeks to identify appropriate cases and how interventions are taken forward.

This event will be of value to anyone having a professional interest or role in the legal process for asylum seekers and refugees.

Coffee and registration will take place from 2.00pm with the seminar beginning at 2.30pm.

Places are limited so please book early to avoid disappointment.
