

Current Asylum Process (New Asylum Model)

This process applies across the UK but may vary according to individual circumstances. The following summarises the process for someone whose case is being processed in Scotland.

Note: Information provided above is accurate as of August 2010, when created, but is subject to change.